

- Another philosophical idea called Daoism developed in China about the same time as Confucianism.
- Daoism is based on the teachings of Laozi, a person scholars are not sure existed.
- Daoists believe that the best way to act in harmony with the universal order is not to interfere with natural order.